BAM International Stadiums

All stadiums

Sports, concerts, festivals or any kind of cultural event – modern stadiums are the scene of some of our most emotional moments. Building a stadium is like setting the stage for an unforgettable experience: the excitement of the match or the joy of seeing your idols live on stage.

All purposes

BAM is right on the ball when it comes to stadium and arena construction. We have the experience and the know-how to design, construct and manage the complexity of these multi-purpose creations.

We understand the ambitions of our clients. We share in their excitement and in the anticipation of the fans.

All over the world

We were there when South Africa needed more and better stadiums to host the 2010 FIFA World Cup. Stadiums designed for the biggest football event in the world, which continued their lives as multipurpose venues for sports and cultural events.

We built the venue for Manchester City's Football Academy, where young players come to achieve their dreams of becoming the next big star, like David Beckham.

We realised a multi-purpose stadium in Al-Ain, as part of a larger development to give the city a boost as a centre of sports and cultural activities in the United Arab Emirates.

And many, many more...

Right on the ball

BAM International Stadiums offers specialist know-how and worldwide experience in stadium building.

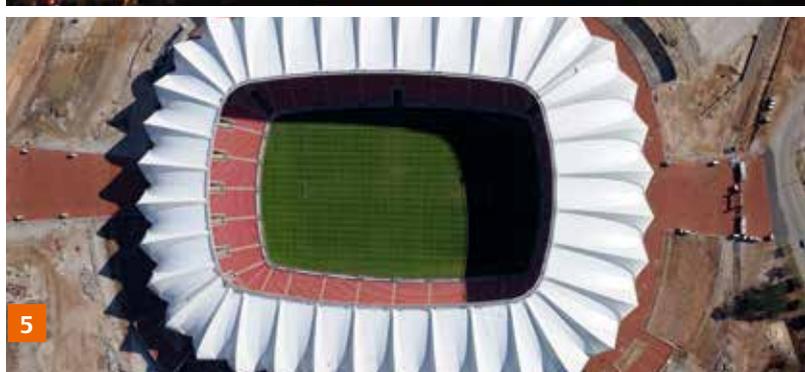

As a subsidiary of Royal BAM Group we are able to deliver the full range of services to achieve our clients' ambitions. From design studies to actual construction and commissioning. With a proven track record for delivering as promised, we bring manpower and a fleet of our own equipment, all backed up by decades of international experience and a strong financial background.

Building with BAM is an agreeable experience. We understand the complexity of multi-purpose venues. We know the importance of safety – both during construction and after. We know about time constraints, about the pursuit of perfection and the deadline of a major event.

We make projects manageable. We put together dedicated teams who work together with our clients to realise their ambitions. We weigh the risks and help you choose between your options. We ensure that sensible choices result in long-lasting quality.

BAM International Stadiums is a combination of forces between Group subsidiaries BAM International and BAM Sports.
